THE SUMMER HALF-HOLIDAY

Today the official Saturday halfholiday begins. Throughout the summer months the greater part of the Government employes together with many others of the city's workers will have Saturday afternoon to themselves. It means in the aggregate sixty hours to be devoted to whatever ends each may determine for himself. The employment of time is a pretty sure index of the individual. Sixty hours reckoned in terms of accomplishment is a long time. Sixty hours of endeavor in any line cannot be altogether void of value. When they are gone they will never come back. What are you going to do with your sixty

MAKE IT A GREAT WELCOME

The formal acceptance by the United Confederate Veterans of the invitation to make Washington the scene of their reunion in 1917 assures the Capital of a formal visit from the men who in the '60s would have been glad to come without an

It will be a great opportunity for the Capital to demonstrate the highest form of municipal cordiality. The parade of last Wednesday was an evidence of what this city can do in the way of spectacles even on a short notice. What it could do were enthusiasm and time combined might well be shown on the occasion of the Confederates' visit. The enthusiasm should have a beginning now and plans be made for a real celebration, a celebration which in spirit and in execution shall surpass all previous endeavors in the Capital.

Los Angeles has always had a climate. Some people, especially those who live there, have thought it was the only climate in the country that was fit to live in. Washington during this present glorious month of June would give argument to the Western city as to which was the better place to live. Washington is, however, barred from contesting with the Pacific metropolis in its boundaries of the Capital will never be extended so much as to make it a And maybe you won't hear some-

To believe Russian claims means that the past two weeks has witnessed the destruction by killing or capture of more than 50 per cent of the German and Austrian forces which were scattered from Pripet to the Roumanian border when the drive began.

An · interesting sidelight on the capture of Czernowitz is the fact that when the Russians were there last year they removed from the city hall a decoration consisting of a double-headed eagle and that just previous to the present storming of the city the Germans had with a gala day celebration unveiled another similar decoration. The Bear is certainly keeping the Eagle on the move.

A SICK CALL SOUTHWARD

James G. Blaine, that meteor across the American sky, left one enduring glow which has lit the steps of our diplomacy ever since. His policy of fostering Pan-American friendship has been adhered to by his successors as Secretary of State, notably by Elihu Root, and we have had many embassies of good will, such as those of Root and Theodore E. in New Orleans and Panama. The party, which sailed recently from New York, will encircle the South American continent, spending such time as may be necessary in each city where the existence of yellow fever is suspected.

There is an engaging novelty about this. By their fruits ye shall know them, said an ancient wise man, and the remark is as applicable now as then. It has been the custom to pat our southern friends on the back, to tell them in one breath that we love them and ask them in the next please to do their trading

STILL TARIFF HUMBUG

In the tariff plank which went from the White House to St. Louis there was a declaration for an investigation of changing economic conditions at home and abroad by a tariff commission, whose findings should be presented to Congress for age of the ouster law at the last sesaction looking to an anti-dumping law which "would keep the tariff rates on a fairly competitive basis ginia who fails to enforce every law bel Brandenburg, Margaret Rouse Brisin times of surplus production abroad."

This meant nothing less than a protective tariff, for a protective tariff aims to do and does that very thing of maintaining in the American market a competitive basis between a home article produced at high labor costs and a foreign article produced at pauper labor costs.

But when Mr. Wilson's competitive tariff plank was shown in St. Louis such a shout of derision went up from the Republican press and such a cry of shame from the honest Democratic press, which saw and acknowledged the humbug of such a subterfuge, that the "competitive" stuff was stricken out of the tariff plank as it finally appeared.

But in its present form it is humbug plank, just the same. Word for word, it goes along with the plank first sent from the White House to St. Louis until it comes LOS ANGELES' NEW DISTINCTION down to what the tariff commission is going to do, and then it muddles up the stream with these words:

In order to ascertain just what In order to ascertain just what those (economic) changes may be, the Democratic Congress is providing for a non-partisan tariff commission to make impartial, and thorough study of every economic fact that may throw light either upon our past or upon our future fiscal policy with regard to the imposition of taxes on imports or with regard to the changed and changing conditions under which our trade is carried on.

The only difference between this and the other is that the first was latest bid for supremacy for the bold, brazen humbug and this is cowardly, sneaking humbug.

AMERICANISM CANNOT BE MADE A POLITICAL ISSUE

From the Democratic platform we xtract the following:

We therefore condemn as subversive of this nation's unity and integrity and as destructive of its welfare the activities and designs of every group or organization, political or other, that has for its object the advancement of the interests of a foreign power, whether such object is promoted by intimidating the Government, a political party or representatives of the people, or which is calculated and tends to divide our people into antagonistic groups and

TOMORROW IN VIRGINIA

The State of Virginia will on Sunday, be legally the most conspicuous State in the Union for on that day because of the "ouster law" every man, woman, and child engaged in any occupation except housekeeping will be subject to arrest, and orders have been issued that the arrests be made. Under this ridiculous enforcement of the law, telephone operators, street car crews, publishers of newspapers, choir singers, drivers of automobiles, or any person working at any trade or employed at any labor or business which is not a work of necessity or charity, will be arrested and subjected to fine.

The law which it is proposed to enforce is one of the old "blue laws" and was passed in 1790. The occasion for its resumption is the passsion of the legislature under the provisions of which any official in Viron the statute books shall be removed from office.

respondent of the New York Evening Post, the most responsible, if not TYPOTHETAE OFF prominent, working journalist among the Democratic newspaper representatives at the convention, had this to say in his paper yesterday:

President Wilson might have held the Democratic national convention in the East Room of the White House several weeks ago and saved everybody a lot of trouble and superfluous travel. Nothing moves here except at his direction. The convention is to renominate him, so there is to be no opposition. His wishes are being met in the platform: in fact, he himself drafted it, and what else does a national convention do besides nominate a candidate, adopt a platform, and thank the local police for their courtesies?

All of which explains the splendid spontaneity of every word, every cheer, and every act of this convention, while, as faithfully described in columns and pages of Administration organs, it has simply beiled with superheated enthusiasm from

Bishop Daniel S. Tuttle, of Missouri, who will preach the sermon in memory of Bishop Claggett, is one of the oldest bishops in the world in point of consecration.

He was elected a bishop when only twenty-nine years old, but had to wait a year to reach canonical age, and then went to the Rocky Mountain States, and laid the foundation of what have become great religious institutions in Utah, Nevada, Montana, Wyoming, Idaho. Twenty years ago he went to Mis-souri, and this year the church is cele-brating his golden jubilee as bishop.

Cheaper Properties and Loan Market Have the Call in Dull Trading-Big Loans Made.

The Preparedness Day holiday and incessant rains played havoc with the real estate market for the second week of June. Wednesday was about the only clear day of the week, and Washington was "en fete" so that the brokers day. Four of the other five days were comparatively busy ones, but the brokers succeeded in closing during the week only 129 transactions involving conveyance of 175 lots and parcels of

There was a dearth of sales of large consideration, the medium priced and cheaper properties appearing to have the call on the ma. A. The feature of the week's business was a loan of $200,-000 on the Burlington Agartments on Vermont avenue, near Thomas Circle. Frederic H. Hoover and Benjamin Holliand, trustees, conveyed the property to the Union Tript Company to secure an advance of $20,000 made by the Fidelity Trust Company of Philadelphia. The loan is repayable in one to five years and bears interest at 5.4 per cent. real estate.

Another Big Loan. Another large loan was for $115,000. This sum was advanced by the Washington Loan and Trust Company to Harry B. Willson to finance building of a large apartment house on Eighteenth street. The Union Trust Company is named as trustee in the deal.

A third large financial transactioon was closed Thursday when Edmund . Fox placed loans aggregating $75,000 on an apartment on Eighteenth street, near Pennsylvania avenue. The Union Trust Company advanced $55,000 on this property, and a second trust for $30,000 was taken by Walter J. Pilling, administrator. The latter loan is to fall due in forty months, and the first trust due in forty months, and the first trust in forty-two months.

Tuesday was the busiest day of the week. Thirty-two sales were made. Friday ranked second with twenty-nine deals effected. Monday saw twenty-six trades completed and twenty-five sales were reported Thursday. On the half-holiday of Saturday seventeen deals were recorded. The office of the Recorder of Deeds was closed Wednesday.

Old Properties Active. The sone of activity drew closer to the old city limits this week, and the nest-urban district attained the supremacy of the market. The outlying suburbs were in second place with forty-four parcels transferred. There were forty-one lots changing owners in the northwest, twenty-five in the northeast, ten in the southeast, and six in the southwest.

The loan market made a strong bid for the million-dollar mark, but fell short a little over $100,000. It made the best showing since the week ended March 25. Byact figures in loans for the second week in June were $860.01.

the second week in June were $869.01. This sum was borrowed on the security of 165 lots at an average interest rate of 5.7 per cent.

Straight loans predominated the market and displayed a total of $715.11233. Building associations advanced to members $120.900. The sum of all the notes given for deferred purchase money was $33.002.12.

Northwest property returned to favor as a basis for loan security being pledged for an agregate of $571.774.70. Land in the county was encumbered to the extent of $391.451.30. The record of loans in the other city sections was: Northeast, $25.200; southeast, $8,795, and southwest, $1.900.
